Three candidates tendered their nominations on Monday last to contest the two vacancies. The two retiring trustees, Dave Holly and Mrs. Ann Vasek, are seeking election. The third candidate is Havecock Hulbert, a newcomer to municipal politics.

EMPLOYMENT OF EX-SERVICE PERSONNEL

From Aug. 1 to Dec. 31, 1945, a total of 71,576 service personnel, male and female, were interviewed by National Employment Service officers at discharge centres in the prairie region.

Of this number 26,861 had been employed prior to their enlistment. During that period 12,256 ex-service men and 138 ex-service women have returned to their former jobs. A report on the balance can not be completed until the interim period of three months allowed for exercise of reinstatement rights has elapsed.

The percentage of ex-service men placed in skilled and semi-skilled trades continues high and an increasing number of veterans are expressing an interest in vocational and other types of training. In regard to the reinstatement of ex-

Mr. Holly has completed two terms on the board, while Mrs. Vasek has completed one.

Mayor Frank Abousaefy was sent back to office by acclamation, as was also his two councillors, Adam Wilson and James Lowe.

Mayor Abousaefy has been in office only a year, having filled the unexpired term of ex-mayor Antrobus. Councillor Wilson also has only been in office for a year, filling Mayor Abousaefy's term as councillor. Councillor Lowe has completed his three years' term as councillor and now commences his second three years' term.

service personnel, the overall picture is very gratifying. Concerning veterans entitled to reinstatement, but at present unemployed, it is anticipated that they will be reinstated as soon as the work in which they were normally engaged is resumed in the spring.

Commenting on the increase in the number of applications for out of work benefits, this may be attributed to some extent by the tendency on the part of some veterans to wait until such time as they can secure a particular job of their own choosing.

Mrs. J. R. Kerr entertained on Monday evening at three tables of bridge. Honore were won by Mrs. Jack Price, Mrs. Tom Mitchell and Mrs. Melville Cornett. Mrs. Mitchell was the evening's big winner since she also won the travelling prize.

PTE. J. NIMCAN RETURNED HOME LAST FRIDAY

His family and friends were present to welcome home Pte. John Nimcan when he returned from overseas last Friday. He returned on the Ile De France after serving several years overseas. He enlisted at Vancouver, where he had been employed in a pulp and paper mill.

Grands Too Good For Shaughnessy

Pow Gets Easy Shutout; Game Marred by Rule Interpretations.

Hockey wise Coleman Grands were much too powerful for the Shaughnessy Cadillacs in an exhibition game here on Friday night and breezed through to an easy 10-0 win to maintain their undefeated record for the season.

While no match for the Grands at any stage of the game the visitors weakened themselves by time and again challenging the interpretation of rules with the referee, thus visibly weakening their opposition to the powerful Coleman thrusters. It was only when Grands had reached double figures that they eased up in their goal scoring. Pow seldom was in difficulty in the local nets and had no difficulty in gaining a shutout.

During the first eight minutes Cadillacs held the locals scoreless with Bennett making some wonderful saves. At 8:30 Biegun scored from just inside the Cadillac blue line and the scoring streak had begun. Minutes later Joyce went through the entire team to score, followed by Moore who gulped a shot into the net. Bennett was injured on this goal, but after a few minutes took his place in the net. Grands fourth goal came on a three way passing attack to beat Bennett cleanly.

In the second it was again a parade to the Shaughnessy nets as Moore, Pavlus, Trotz and Fraser scored four goals in nine minutes. It was in this period that the game was held up a few minutes as Cadillacs sought vainly to have the referee interpret rules as they played them in the prairie town.

In the final frame play was well advanced before Andrews scored, to be followed two minutes later by Collings, thus ending the scoring for the Grands, who slackened their pace and rode out the game on their 10-0 lead.

Coleman: Pow; Joyce, Moores; Fraser, Collings, Cytko; Andrews, Pavlus, Field, Lant, Moore, Mozell, Trotz, Biegun.

Shaughnessy: Bennett; F. Deak, H. Watmough; Siray, McNab, Gillies; Quam, E. Deak, K. Branch, Pepper, H. Branch, R. Watmough, Ukrainetz, L. Watmough.

BIRTHDAY PARTY

A surprise birthday party was held at the home of Mrs. N. Hleuka on Saturday in honor of her son, Ronnie, who celebrated his seventeenth birthday. Twenty guests were present and games, dancing and community singing were enjoyed. Following refreshments the honored guest was presented with a number of handsome gifts, for which he expressed his thanks.

New Gladiola Named "Crows Nest" In Honor Of The Pass

(Jim Cousins)

Of interest to all flower gardeners is the announcement in the Press Bulletin of the Extension Dept. of the University of Alberta of the naming of seventeen new varieties of gladioli.

Owing to the coolness of our Coleman summers gladioli varieties have not always proved satisfactory. Nothing rated later than midseason can be depended upon to bloom and frequently the bulb developed is too small to bloom the following year.

John S. Bach is the only standard variety that I have found to be dependable as to both blooms and bulbs when just planted out, without starting indoors.

This is why Dr. Shoemaker's new varieties are of so much interest to local flower lovers. I have watched with interest for some years back the development of the University seedlings. Many of them looked much better under Edmonton conditions than the standard varieties growing alongside.

Edmonton conditions are somewhat better than ours, so they set out their corns on April 15 and generally have a nice show of blooms by the end of July, while in Coleman the same varieties would go in about May 1 and be blooming by Aug. 15. That will give some basis for comparison.

I have been co-operating with Dr. Shoemaker for some years in trying out corns for comparison. I picked out the earliest seedling of good quality that came into bloom a few summers ago and some corns were sent along in the spring. I have been growing that variety ever since. It was particularly striking last summer.

This variety has been named "Teepee" and is listed as early midseason. (Edmonton, not Ontario midseason.) This variety averages 86 days to bloom. "Asiniboine" is earlier (85 days) and "Hobbema" is earlier still (82 days). The new varieties are all associated with Indian history in Alberta. Our locality is honored by a nice orange-colored glad (midseason, 100 days) called "Crowsnest." Others blooming about the same time are Pembina, Athabaska, Minnewanka, Yellowhead and Cree. The other varieties are probably a bit late for the mountains.

It may be a year or two before these bulbs will be in sufficient supply to be available to everyone, but they will probably make a name for themselves in the future in gardens all over the continent.

UKRAINIAN SOCIETY HONOR BILL FERBY

Coleman Ukrainian Society on Sunday evening, Jan. 27, gathered at the home of Mrs. Ferby in east Coleman for a surprise party in honor of Pte. Wm. Ferby, recently returned from overseas.

There were sixty persons present and a most enjoyable social evening was enjoyed. During the festivities Bill was presented with a gift from his friends.

Prior to the evening's fun the gathering stood for two minutes silence in respect to the memory of the late Pte. Wm. Nimcan.

LIEUT. JOHN BAYON ARRIVED HOME ON WEDNESDAY

Mrs. John Bayon, nee Nettie Gillespie, and her young daughter left early Wednesday morning for Calgary, where they will meet the former's husband, Lieut. John Bayon, as he steps off the train at Calgary after a trip from overseas. Lieut. Bayon has been overseas several years and will note quite a change in his young daughter.

Grands Swamp Pincher Creek In Hockey "Game"

Score at Will and Coast to an Easy 12-2 Decision; Defence Played on Forward Line and Forwards on Defence.

Coleman Grands went through the motions on Tuesday evening and hung up another win to their league record by toying with Pincher Creek intermediates and scoring a very easy 12-2 decision.

Grands appeared to get stronger as the league plays to a finish and on Tuesday evening the game was so one-sided that one heard remarks of disgust. Midway through the second period Grands led 8-1 and put their forwards on defence and defence on the forward line and still Pincher could make no headway, while Grands continued to shoot goals with ridiculous ease. Bill Fraser was not in uniform, nor was goalie Dave Pow. Joyce is regaining his stick-handling wizardry of old and takes great enjoyment in going through the opposing team to score.

Coleman scored four goals in the first period through Collings, Trotz, Andrews and Moore. Ross, of Pincher, scored early in the second before Andrews, Field and Andrews (2) rapped home another four goals. In the third period Biegun, Mozell, Field and Biegun rapped home four more goals before McLean beat the undefended McDonald in the local net for Pincher's second marker.

SURPRISE PARTY HONORS MRS. G. DERBYSHIRE SR.

A very pleasant surprise party was given in honor of Mrs. George Derbyshire sr., on Monday evening last when the Ladies Auxiliary, B.S.L., gathered at the home of Mrs. Joe Kostelnik.

Whist was played, prizes being won by Mrs. F. Kyncl and Mrs. J. Morrison. Mrs. E. Hill won the bean contest.

A dainty lunch was served, following which the honored guest was presented with a beautiful chenille bedspread in appreciation of her work during the past seven years as treasurer of the Ladies Auxiliary. Mrs. Derbyshire, taken completely by surprise by her friends, thanked them for their thoughtfulness and kindness in sponsoring the party and in presenting her with such a beautiful gift.

After an enjoyable evening the party closed with the singing of "For she's a jolly good fellow." Since it was also Mrs. Derbyshire's birthday a lovely birthday cake was presented her by Mrs. W. H. Garner, to which the honored guest and the entire gathering did full justice.

Wm. "Billy" Carr Passed Away On Monday Morning

Came to Canada in 1903; Worked at Michel, Coal Creek, Vancouver Island and Coleman.

Another of Coleman's old-timers passed away early Monday morning in the person of William "Billy" Carr in the local hospital. Billy, who would have been 84 next month, was found ill at his home on Fifth street on Saturday evening by friends who summoned the doctor who authorized his removal to hospital. He passed away at 5:40 Monday morning.

He was born at Kersley, Lancashire, England, in 1862. He married in England before coming to Canada in 1903, when he settled at Michel, gaining employment at the Michel colliery. It was in Michel that he met Jack Rushton, now a Coleman old-timer. The two men left Michel in 1904 for Vancouver Island where they gained employment at the Extension Mines. They were there six months when they left, first going to Victoria, then Seattle and then back to Fernie, where they secured work at Coal Creek. Billy remained at Fernie until 1910 when he came to Coleman, batching in west Coleman. Two years later he was joined by first his son, Harry, and two daughters, Florrie and Alice, and later by his wife and other members of the family. They resided in west Coleman. Billy worked first in International, and a few years later transferred to McGillivray, where he worked for many years. His last job, prior to retirement, was that of mine's checkweighman, a position he held for several years.

He has lived alone for many years in his home on Fifth street, friendly neighbors continually calling in on him to see that all was well.

Surviving are his widow, 82 years of age, at Vancouver; three sons, Harry, of Vancouver, and Claude and Joe in England, and two daughters, Mrs. Alex. Grissack, of Port Alice B.C. and Mrs. George Denny, of Vancouver. A daughter, Mrs. Jack Denny, of Nelson, predeceased him some years ago. Harry was in Coleman last summer visiting his father.

Constable Antle was asked to contact relatives and sent a wire to relatives at Vancouver. No word had been received up till Wednesday noon and until some relative is contacted funeral arrangements cannot be completed.

MISCELLANEOUS SHOWER

A miscellaneous shower was held on Wednesday evening, Jan. 23, in honor of Mrs. E. Fabro, nee Mary DeCocco. Hostesses included Mrs. John Rinaldi, Mrs. Frank DeCocco, Vella DeMartin, Mrs. Toppano, Mrs. J. Colombo, Dora Montalbetti and Mrs. L. Salvador.

Games were played, Whist prizes were won by Mrs. C. Roggiani, Mrs. S. Lepachuk and Mrs. V. Ferrogotti. The bean contest was won by Mr. A. R. Montalbetti; musical chair by Mrs. Emily Misura and the soap contest by Mrs. Roggiani.

Following a dainty luncheon the honored guest was presented with many varied and useful gifts, for which she ably expressed her thanks.

Peacetime Saving

IN A MESSAGE ISSUED at the close of 1945 by Hon. J. L. Hickey, Minister of Finance, it was stated that serious consideration is now being given to the setting up of some organized plan for peacetime saving. This plan would resemble the Victory Loan campaign of the War Savings Certificate drives which have been carried out during the past six years, for the purpose of financing the war. The people of Canada have invested heavily in both victory bonds and war savings stamps, and a large percentage of the money raised, came from small investors who would not likely have put their savings into government bonds in time of peace. Much of the money also came from investors who were encouraged to undertake systematic saving through the pay roll deductions plan used for the Victory Loans.

Advantages Of Planned Saving

Each of the nine Victory Loan drives held since 1939 were heavily over-subscribed. In his year-end statement, Mr. Hickey revealed that a total of $13,301,000,000 had been invested by Canadians in war loans, victory bonds, and war savings stamps and certificates, and that of this amount, $6,596,000,000 had come from individual investors. That great plan of national savings has had many advantages for the people as well as for the government. It has made available funds urgently needed for carrying on the war; it has provided people of all income groups with an opportunity for making sound investments; and in the opinion of the Finance Minister, it has played a very important part in keeping down inflation, always a serious threat in times such as these in which we are now living.

An Investment In The Future

It has often been said that to invest in a government bond is to invest in the future of Canada. During the war, the people showed that they were eager to invest in the security of the nation and there is no doubt but that, given the same encouragement, they would welcome the opportunity to continue to put their savings into some form of government bonds. Throughout Canada, the feeling has been expressed that sums of money such as were raised for the purpose of carrying on the war, could be used in peacetime to improve living conditions and to develop the many potentialities of the country. Now that the war is over, the people are beginning to look to the future, and there are indications that they are as willing to invest their savings in the well-being of Canada in time of peace as they were to ensure its security during the war.

How You Can Get Quick Relief From Sore, Painful Piles

Most people seem to think the only way to get relief from their sore, painful piles is by local treatment. Local treatment may give temporary relief from the itching but you cannot avoid the cause of the trouble. You must get to the root of the trouble and not expect the cure of your piles.

Not taking freedom from piles may be bad news for the cause of the trouble is cured. Piles are due to internal causes and the best way to get lasting relief is to treat them internally with a medicine like Hem-Roid.

Hem-Roid is a formula that has been used for over 40 years by thousands of pile sufferers. It is a mild, highly concentrated formula, easy and pleasant to use. This directly compounded tablet formula directly attacks the cause of the piles at the root of the trouble.

Medical Degree

A Former R.C.M.P. Corporal Of Southern Saskatchewan, Studies In England

Richard Clitherow, 43, former Royal Canadian Mounted Police corporal in Southern Saskatchewan who started his medical studies when he was 38, has passed his final examinations in London, and returns to the House of Commons as a doctor. He is a Labor member of parliament for Edgely, Liverpool. He is a pharmacist and says he studied for his medical degree simply because "I wanted to have an intelligent understanding of what doctors think." He will not practice.

He intends to visit Canada again for "that country got in my blood."

Makes Good Food

Sunflower Seed Can Be Used In Very Many Ways

The sunflower, though we think of it as something tall, lissom and being over the garden wall—purely decorative—is the source of food for both man and beast.

Sunflower seed has been planted for years in Russia, several South American countries, and Canada as a farm crop. Sunflower seed oil is a source of fat and protein. Sunflower seed meal makes tasty flour with which to enrich bread. It is also used in the manufacture of shortening and in making soap, and it makes fine salad and cooking oil. As cake meal it provides fattening for livestock, much the same as soyabean, cottonseed and linseed meal.

NEED SPECIAL CARE

Here's a word of caution on the washing of wool socks. They require the same tender care as sweaters—lukewarm water for both washing and rinsing, and no wringing or artificial heat. It's wise to trace an outline on paper for size before washing, and pin the sock over this on a towel placed flat for drying. When they are comparatively dry on top, turn them over; later place on the rod of a coat hanger and let circulating air complete the drying process.

Price Control And Rationing Information

Q.—May I serve unrationed meat at my lunch counter on meatless day?

A.—Tuesdays and Fridays are definitely meatless days and no meat may be served on those two days, regardless if the meat is rationed or not.

Q.—I am a farmer's wife and would like to know if I must collect coupons when I sell my neighbor meat and poultry?

A.—Because poultry is not rationed it is not necessary for you to collect ration coupons for this sale. However meat coupons must be collected at the rate of one coupon for every four pounds of meat.

Q.—What will we use for sugar ration coupons when the present ones are all declared valid?

A.—The Green "S" coupons in ration book 5 are to be used for the purchase of sugar and preserves. The first "S" coupon becomes valid in February.

Q.—When will the new ration book be issued?

A.—Your present ration book will be used for some time yet. There are a number of sheets of coupons which have not yet been used and they will be, when and if necessary.

Please send your questions or your request for the pamphlet "Consumers' News" or the Blue Book in which you keep track of your selling prices, mentioning the name of this paper to the nearest Wartime Prices and Trade Board office in your province.

Magic Eye

Vessel Guided By Radar Steamed Blind Up The Thames

The 3,000-ton H.M.S. Pollux steamed "blind" up the foggy Thames estuary, guided only by the "magic eye" of its radar equipment.

The experimental radar ship, a former Russian ice-breaker, maneuvered its way past shipping and between buoys in its path, solely on directions telephoned to the captain on the bridge by the navigating officer in charge of radar apparatus in a darkened cabin below decks.

On the circular screen of a grey metal box three feet tall, the navigator could see ahead in an aerial photograph the coastline and every obstruction in the river for a radius of nearly three miles.

TAILORED TO SUIT

Modern Digest says it's no news that undergarment makers in movies do a number of things to add illusory height. However, it's not generally known that one Hollywood executive, who is on the short side, has his office and home surroundings tailored to his proportions. His office has low ceilings, doorways, mantelpieces, tables, chairs and bookshelves. He even has hired a short secretary.

Greater Than Before

Canada To Spend $500,000,000 On War Veterans This Year

A grateful Canada in 1946 alone expects to spend more than $500,000,000 on its war veterans, an amount greater than the ordinary running costs of the federal government itself outside of war expenditures.

Never before in its history has Canada contemplated such a colossal expenditure in a single year on war veterans. To be handled through the Department of Veterans Affairs, it will include gratuities, re-establishment credits, unemployment benefits, medical services, vocational training, university training, housing, placement on small holdings or farms, and purchase of equipment.

After the war, 1919 was the peak expense for veterans, and about $300,000,000 was used up.

Although Canada's post-discharge benefits for its servicemen are already the envy of every other nation, they are still not complete.

When the first parliamentary session of 1946 began, the hard-working Veterans Affairs committee will be reconstituted and carry on the work it began last autumn. Still to be threshed out by this all-party group of ex-servicemen, who in committee have tossed personal politics to the winds in favor of getting the best for the fighting men, are five main subjects:

The Canadian Pension Act; the War Veterans' Allowance Act, which provides for living allowances for aged or incapacitated veterans; the medical treatment regulations; Civil Service preference; other groups, not actually servicemen, for instance, merchant seamen, fire fighters, auxiliary services, V.A.D., Red Cross, civilian pilots.—Ottawa Citizen.

Contact With Moon

Orson Welles Comments On Possibilities Of The Future

The universe, said Orson Welles, is getting awfully small, and very wonderful.

Call scientists dreamers if you will. Believe nothing can keep the world from going to pieces. But Welles believes the Army's contact with the moon may solve the housing shortage and the problem of how to keep Junior from getting underfoot.

Welles, who seven years ago gave a large portion of the population a case of hysteria with his "Invasion from Mars" radio fantasy, was impressed with the news of the Army's radar achievements.

"And I was the fool who thought my broadcast was heh-heh," he said.

So ends an era. Welles commented that the time was gone when all a mother had to do was worry about what devilish Johnny was up to in the backyard. Now she must worry about his catching a cold romping around in inter-planetary space without his rubbers.

"I think the day will come when children will play in space, as they do in backyards," Welles said.

"There'll be no need to fear Mars or the moon," he said. "Instead of Mars attacking us, it will be a real estate subdivision."

The Army Signal Corps' forecast of space ships flying thousands of miles through the ionosphere makes Mars a much more pleasant place to think about on dark nights, he said.

"We now realize the possibility of inter-planetary excursions. I hope that they will be for scientific research and maybe for pleasure, eventually, and not for reasons of refuge."

Radar contact with a planet 238,857 miles away holds a grimly humorous warning," he added.

"It should tell us that the way we're handling the affairs of the world, we may find someday that the only way to continue life will be by fleeing to another planet," Welles said.

Indians Respect Witch Doctor But No Longer Believe In Him

Pickings are slim for a witch doctor among Six Nations Indians these days at Brantford, Ont., and De-Wa-Se-La-Ka, or Two-Axe, one of the last of the medicine men, attributes the slump in business to shortage of money, not lack of respect for tradition.

Most of the Indians no longer believe in the healing powers of the witch doctor, but by those who do, a false face, a tortoise-shell rattle and a few dried herbs are considered as effective against an illness or infirmity as penicillin, a sulfa drug or a shot of adrenalin.

The masks Two-Axe wears, the songs he sings and the rattle he uses are sacred things, even today, to most Indians. Whether or not they believe in them, they respect them because, as an Indian on the reservation put it, "they are a part of a heritage."

Two-Axe can brew a mixture of herbs medicinally good for a human body. He can dry a root to cure a stomach-ache or headache, or help a fever or a rheumatic pain. He says some of the things he knows about roots and herbs are the basis for patent medicines the white man has been making for years.

U.S. Will Test Atomic Bomb On Armada Of Ships

The United States Navy has raised the curtain on its plans for testing the atomic bomb against a great armada of fighting ships—an experiment expected to revolutionize sea warfare.

A guinea pig fleet of 97 vessels, ranging from carriers and battleships, submarines and transports to an assortment of smaller craft, will be the atomic target in the vast operation to start in May.

LOVE ONE ANOTHER

Love is never lost. If not reciprocated it will flow back and soften and purify the heart.—Washington Irving.

"With, like light, should always be simple and unending; while love, like warmth, should beam forth on every side, and bend to every necessity of our brethren.—Martin Luther.

It is the very essence of love, of nobleness, of greatness, to be willing to suffer for the good of others.—Spencer.

"Love one another, as I have loved you." No extraneousness, no emulation, no deceit, enters into the heart that loves as Jesus loved. It is a false sense of love that, like the summer brook, soon gets dry.—Mary Baker Eddy.

Divine love is a sacred flower, which in its early bud is happiness, and in its full bloom is heaven.—Klemm L. Hervey.

How shall I do to love? Believe. How shall I do to believe? Love.—Leighton.

COMPLETE DISCUSSIONS IN BRITAIN FOR THE MARKETING OF CANADIAN FOOD PRODUCTS

LONDON.—Top Canadian and British food experts have completed detailed discussions on the provisions of Canadian food to Britain during the next several years, and the suggestions now will go to the governments of the two countries for approval.

Agriculture Minister James Gardiner of Canada has been in the United Kingdom for some weeks, busy with the affairs of the United Nations assembly and with discussions in which Sir Ben Smith, British food minister, has been the chief British spokesman.

"Our discussions have been satisfactory but all matters pertaining to the negotiations must be reported to the Canadian government and the decisions will be made in Ottawa," Mr. Gardiner said here prior to his departure for northern England.

His duties as leader of the Canadian delegation to UNO will be taken over by State Secretary Paul Martin.

It is understood the British food experts made clear the continued need for Canadian food in quantity which the Dominion is ready to provide. The Canadian minister sought extension of contracts to have some cover as much as five years in the future and to provide security for the Canadian producer.

Wheat, cheese, bacon, eggs and meat were all under discussion. Canada desires prices similar to those paid at present and, as mutual aid is ended, British officials are inclined to check carefully before entering long-term contracts.

Arrangements for a Canadian loan to the United Kingdom soon will be under discussion and this may be a factor in the final decisions on food agreements.

Mr. Gardiner said wheat shipments through Port Churchill, on the coast of Hudson Bay, were discussed in his talks with Scottish co-operatives which are major grain importers and are interested in the possibilities of cheaper transport by the northern route.

Other sources said United Kingdom interest was shown in the prospective use of part of the war-wool Canadian merchant marine on the northern route to the Manitoba port where grain storage facilities provided in a government elevator. Port Churchill was virtually unused during the war due to lack of convoy arrangements.

The Canadian visitors to Britain with Mr. Gardiner included Dr. G. S. H. Barton, his deputy minister, and the party made personal checks on the conditions of Canadian foods reaching the United Kingdom. They found the British butcher who receives unsalted Canadian bacon is one of the most valuable friends of the Dominion as he knows where bacon comes from and its quality.

The housewife who buys unmarked sliced bacon does not know its place of origin but she likely will be influenced in future buying when the butcher reports that Canadian bacon is good. Because of war shipments of good quality, Canada hopes to hold much of the bacon market here even when Denmark and other competitors return to full production.

Continuation of British bulk buying makes unlikely the sale of small packages of bacon labelled "Canada" for at least a year. Visitors to the United Kingdom have found the British consumer appreciates salt eggs which bear the stamp "Canada."

MAKING PREPARATIONS

LONDON.—Prime Minister Attlee told the commons that a special department of the British ministry of supply has been established to gather up materials for atom-splitting experiments. Lord Portal, marshal of the R.A.F., will head the department.

INDICATIONS WOULD POINT TO HIGHER LUMBER PRODUCTION IN CANADA DURING THIS YEAR

WINNIPEG.—D. D. Rosenberry of Ottawa, federal timber controller, told the annual convention of the Western Retail Lumbermen's Association here that indications were lumber production in Canada would reach a new high in 1946.

In addition, the estimated 400,000 to 500,000,000 feet used each year directly or indirectly for war purposes would be diverted to civilian use and less lumber would be exported than for years.

Despite this, he warned, shortage of many lumber items probably would continue because of the heavy demand.

It was necessary to retain lumber controls because otherwise a major portion of the Canadian output would go to export markets which were paying a higher price than obtainable in Canada.

CIVIL AVIATION

Would Train Veterans Who Have Flying Experience

WINNIPEG.—If the same "top training" were given to the many ex-servicemen seeking jobs in civil aviation as provided under the Commonwealth Air Training plan during the war, Canada would be kept in the forefront of world aviation, J. R. Morgan, Brandon-Virden Flying club, told delegates to the Royal Canadian Flying clubs convention here.

A gap exists between training in the air force and that required for hush flying, he said, and this gap has to be filled or paid for in lives.

Discussion at the opening session of the convention centred on ways of speeding the growth of civil aviation by easing regulations governing separation of pilot instructors into categories and the opening of schools by the department of veterans affairs for training veterans with flying experience.

The suggestion that schools be established was contained in a brief presented to the government by Mr. Morgan and approved by the delegates.

CHIMNEY SWEEP

Member Of A Noted British Family Goes Into Business

SLOUGH, England.—G. A. Sutherland-Leveson-Gower, member of the noted British family which holds at least two peerages, has set himself up here as a chimney sweep.

He had published the following advertisement:

"All types of chimney swept. All orders promptly attended to. Usual charges. Support local enterprise. A postcard will bring him to your door or call on G. A. Sutherland-Leveson-Gower, Lake-Ave., Slough."

A veteran of the Second Great War, the self-styled sweep is a kinsman of the Duke of Sutherland, incumbent of a peerage going back to 1833 and of the Earl of Glanville.

STORM OF PROTEST

Over Increased Cost Of Radio Licenses In Britain

LONDON.—A storm of protest gathered around the heads of Britain's Labor government over last week's announcement hiking the cost of listening to the British Broadcasting Company from 10 shillings ($2.25) to a pound ($4.50) a year.

As a dozen members of parliament demanded detailed reasons for the boost in the annual wireless license, Herbert Morrison, lord president of the council, explained:

"If we are to get the institution (BBC) to pay its way and if there is to be room for development, it cannot be done on 10 shillings a year."

SHOWS INCREASE

Consumption Of Cheese By Canadians Higher During War Years

WINNIPEG.—Consumption of cheese in Canada increased during the war years to a current annual rate of approximately 4.5 pounds per capita, compared with 3.75 pounds per capita for 1939, D. M. Beattie, official of the federal agriculture department, said here.

In an address prepared for delivery before the Manitoba Dairy Association annual convention, Mr. Beattie said the Canadian people were capable of consuming "much more" cheese than being used at present because many groups ate "very little if any cheese."

RECEPTION in Toronto, Ont., to himself and Mrs. Eisenhower was "overwhelming in kindness," Gen. Dwight Eisenhower remarked. Cap and gown replaced the general's battle-dress as honorary doctor of laws degree is conferred at convocation at the University of Toronto.

HAS HARD TASK

Many Difficulties Face United Nations Social And Economic Council

LONDON.—State Secretary Paul Martin of Canada told the United Nations economic and social council: "It is essential that we should from the beginning keep a sense of proportion and not promise ourselves or others more than we are able to perform."

At the same time he stressed that there are few tasks confronting the United Nations of more vital importance than those to be undertaken by the council.

At the second meeting of the 18-power body on which Mr. Martin represents Canada he said primary responsibility for the pursuit of policies designed to accomplish the purposes of the council—promotion of higher standards of living, full employment and economic and social progress rests for the time being on the national governments.

YALTA AGREEMENT

In Support Of Russia's Claim To The Kurile Islands

WASHINGTON.—State Secretary Byrnes said that United States military chiefs were fully aware of a secret Yalta agreement for Anglo-American support of Russia's claim to the Japanese Kurile Islands.

Under the Roosevelt-Churchill-Stalin agreement, he said, the United States and Britain agreed to support Russia's claim to southern Sakhalin, big island north of Japan, as well as the Kurile chain, which the Japanese used as a springboard early in the war for their assault on the Aleutians.

So secret was the document that Mr. Byrnes acknowledged at his press conference that neither he nor President Truman knew of its existence until after Japan's collapse in August—nearly seven months after it was drafted.

But he emphasized that the initial secrecy was imposed for sound reasons, saying its disclosure would have provided a tip-off to Japan that Russia was planning to enter the Pacific war.

MAY RETURN SOON

Possibility Canadian Troops Will Be Home By End Of Month

OTTAWA.—The 60,000 Canadian troops still overseas, exclusive of the occupation force, may be back in Canada by the end of February if shipping allocation for the remainder of this month and next are maintained, Defence Minister Abbott said.

Mr. Abbott said, however, some might have to remain because a sizeable staff still must be maintained at Canadian military headquarters in London in addition to specialized installations for maintaining the occupation force.

There also was doubt whether the few remaining repatriation depots in Britain would be able to shut up shop in time to catch the last February sailing. However, the number remaining in at the end of February was not expected to be large.

Mr. Abbott said more than 200,000 of the 285,000 Canadian servicemen and women in Europe at the end of hostilities last May already have returned to Canada.

LOAN TALK

Britain Wants To Borrow Money From Canada

OTTAWA.—The British government likely will announce the names of officials who will come here for loan talks with Canadian government authorities, it was learned. Date for the opening of the talks will be made known at the same time.

There has been no indication of how much Britain wants to borrow from Canada, but speculation has ranged from $500,000,000 to $1,500,000,000.

WILL BE CHECKED

OTTAWA.—Reconstruction Minister Howe announced appointment of a special committee of the Canadian Construction Association to investigate the continuing shortage of construction materials. Headquarters of the committee will be at Ottawa.

SCIENTISTS WILL INVESTIGATE THE UNTOLD WEALTH OF THE UNINHABITED ARCTIC WASTES

OTTAWA.—Scientists have started investigations aimed at disclosing the untold wealth in vast uninhabited northern wastes, eliminating the scratch and buzz of aurora borealis in radios, improving navigation and generally increasing man's knowledge.

First step taken by the newly-created Arctic Institute of North America—established through international co-operation by Canada, United States, Newfoundland and Denmark, but conducted as a private organization—has been the offer of two $1,500 fellowships for Arctic scientific study.

This is a start in solving the secrets of the Arctic and building a storehouse of information on every aspect of that great silent area which can be used for both commercial and military purposes.

An official has declared, however, it is coincidence, rather than significance that one of the board of governors of the institute is Lt.-Col. J. T. Wilson, leader of the army Muskox operation which will trek through 3,200 miles of Canada's sub-Arctic.

"The military aspect of our work is only incidental and it might interest you to know that we hope

WINNIPEG.—Milk and milk products had moved out of the more protective foods class and now were valued aids in curative medicine, Dr. L. Gibson, of Toronto, told the 61st annual convention of the Manitoba Dairy Association.

A high protein milk "supplement" had been used with considerable success in the military hospitals during the war, he said, and it even had been found mental depression often could be traced to lack of some indispensable nutrients present in milk.

The convention passed a resolution requesting the federal government to continue the wartime 10-cent-a-pound subsidy on butterfat used in manufacture of creamery butter and endorsed the present system of grading cream.

J. R. Abraham, of Winnipeg, was elected president.

Percy E. Reed, Saskatchewan dairy commissioner, said he had hope for the future despite the present difficulties of western dairymen.

"In 1946 even with good feed conditions we must expect a further decrease in production from the 1945 figure. It is even doubtful whether 1947 will show a complete recovery."

But with the settlement of new lands, the return to the soil of many young people, we may be reasonably assured that by 1948, if we are blessed with good feed conditions, the dairy industry will be well on the way to revival."

Canadian milk production has declined steadily since last October while consumption has increased, seriously curtailing output of butter and cheese, D. M. Beattie, federal agriculture department official, told the convention.

Mr. Beattie said it was believed increased milk production resulted from the restriction of returning service personnel to the population and the fact family allowance payments were permitting more expenditure for milk and butter.

Seasonal curtailment in cheese production had released sufficient milk to enable the fluid milk trade to continue distribution in a "reasonably satisfactory manner" in most localities, except in certain areas of Western Canada.

Mr. Beattie, associate chief of dairy products in the agriculture department's grading and inspection services, said low stock figures indicated a decline in butter production during late fall and winter, possibly because of lower milk production and increased consumption.

Latest figures showed Canadian cheese production in 1944 was approximately 42.4 per cent. greater than during 1939 while last year there was a further increase of approximately four per cent. Production of Canadian cheese during 1945 exceeded the objective set by approximately 5,000,000 pounds.

LIDICE MEMORIAL

PRAGUE.—William Kostka of New York, secretary of the Lidice memorial committee, said the groups planned to spend $1,500,000 for a memorial to the Czech village which the Germans destroyed in wrath over the assassination of "the hangerman," Reinhard Heydrich.

Farming was pre-war Japan's biggest business and rice its principal crop.

NOTES AND COMMENTS

MUST BE SATISFIED WITH CITY FATHERS

It would appear from the attendance at the ratepayers' annual meeting and the interest shown nominating day at which time the mayor and two councillors were re-elected to office by acclamation that the town's business is being conducted in a most satisfactory manner.

Harmony has prevailed throughout the council meetings during the past year. This year important items of business confront a now experienced council, chief of which is the light and water franchise. Other important matters to be dealt with include resurfacing our present hard-surfaced streets, which have been allowed to deteriorate quite badly in places; extend the concrete sidewalks, started in west Coleman last fall, aid in the beautification of the cemeteries and possibly make a new entrance to the cemeteries, thus eliminating entirely the steep hill now experienced. Numerous other pieces of business will be dealt with in a sane manner by experienced councillors.

GASOLINE PRICES TO BE BOOSTED

Gasoline prices will be boosted another two cents, according to the Wartime Prices and Trade Board, commencing in March. Despite the appeals of motorists and other interested organizations the price will go up. Neither Edmonton or Ottawa would relinquish their tax which totals ten cents per gallon and no public announcement has been made by the Prices Board that a check was made of the various oil companies books. It seems on the surface that since motorists are not organized they must bear the brunt of increased costs.

LET'S TRY AND ELIMINATE BLUFF

We have it on no less an authority than the provincial Public Works Department that the road from Pincher to the Crow will be hard-surfaced this summer. In keeping with modern road construction all corners are either eliminated or widened so that greater safety is given the motorist.

Since the Public Works Department is undertaking a heavy work program perhaps the time is ripe for securing help in eliminating that dangerous corner east of main street as one enters the town. A considerable portion of this bluff could be ripped out by bulldozers, the corner would thus be made much wider and safer and the entrance to the town would be considerably improved. We're not an engineer, but we doubt if the cost incurred would be very heavy.

It is certainly a project worth considering. If a Board of Trade is organized in Coleman within the next few weeks we suggest that this be among the first projects to be given attention. Failing the Board of Trade let our Lions club give it its consideration.

PEOPLE WANT SECURITY

There never was a time when people were more concerned about security for themselves and their families.

A striking evidence of this fact is the rate at which new life insurance has been purchased. These new sales, moreover, have been made in the face of conditions that were not wholly favorable. The ranks of the life underwriters were greatly thinned through enlistments; a large number of men who ordinarily would be in the market for life insurance were overseas; civilians had higher taxes than ever before, were investing heavily in Victory Bonds, and, in addition, were contributing substantially to various charities.

However, during the year 1945, the total new business issued amounted to over $950,000,000, and during the six years of war the business in force in Canada increased nearly 50 per cent. These figures do not include the extensive foreign business of Canadian life insurance companies; more than one-third of all policies in force in Canadian companies are held outside Canada.

It is evident that people are savings-conscious and have developed habits of thrift. Doubtless the six years of campaigns for war savings certificates and government bonds, together with the work done by life insurance field men, have contributed a great deal towards the education of the public in this direction.

XMAS AT AARICH

A young officer in the army of occupation stationed at Aarich, in Germany, writes to his parents, who live in one of the Pass towns, of how he spent Xmas.

Amongst other things, he mentioned the Xmas tree and the wonderful dinner with turkey and all the trimmings and he adds, "just as we were about to take our seats for dinner, we discovered many hungry little faces pressed against the windows, trying to see what was going on inside. We opened the door and asked the children to come in. They were hungry and poor looking and you may imagine how much happier we all were because we shared with these mites our good dinner.

"We naturally all thought of our own children," and he added, "as long as I live I will never forget our CO holding a little three-year-old girl on his knee and feeding her his dinner while the tears streamed down his face. He has two little girls in Vancouver and I am sure his mind was with them as he fed the little child.

"After dinner the older children sang carols for us, and they looked a whole lot happier as they passed out of the door to go home, carrying candy, oranges, and so forth."

THEATRE NOTES

Tonight and Friday the highly touted picture "Objective Burma" comes to the Palace. This is the same picture that had Britain up-in-arms over the fact that the picture gave the impression that Burma was recaptured by the Americans despite the fact it was almost entirely a British theatre of operation. However, apart from this British-American jealousy angle, the picture is highly entertaining. It shows a group of airmen and their fight against the Japs. It shows a group of soldiers, caught without transportation in the heart of Burma outsmart the Japs and how they are kept in supplies by their comrades in the air.

On Saturday and Monday the two veteran favorites, Claudette Colbert and Fred MacMurray, are again teamed together in "Practically Yours." It is a gay comedy that keeps you smiling constantly throughout its running. Both are top star artists and good entertainment is assured.

APPRECIATED

Citizens generally appreciated the work of Town Foreman Joe Malanchuk on Sunday morning in clearing the main streets throughout town with the snow plow.

It snowed quite heavily during Saturday and through the night. Joe got up at 4 a.m. Sunday, came down town, got out the town truck to which was attached the snow plow and while still dark he was clearing the main thoroughfares of heavy snow. Pedestrians and motorists alike expressed their appreciation, when on going out bright and early Sunday morning they found the roadways already cleared of snow. Joe sacrificed a good night's sleep in order that citizens generally might be served. Thanks, Joe!

STORMY WEATHER

February bids fair to be our coldest month of the year. Snow, wind and cold has been the daily fare up to the present time with roads becoming drifted, requiring the snow plow to keep them open.

Only the curlers and skaters appear to be enjoying the present weather. There is one bright spot, however. On Monday morning Joe Plante revealed that he had just delivered 27 cartons of spring seeds. Spring, evidently, must be around the proverbial corner.

T.B. QUESTIONS ANSWERED BY THE ALBERTA TUBERCULOSIS ASSOCIATION

Q. Is it possible to have considerable activity of the disease and still have negative sputum?

A. Yes, in certain types of the disease and at certain stages.

Q. My sputum has been negative for nine months. Can I be reasonably sure it will continue to be negative?

A. Yes, one can be reasonably sure of the sputum remaining negative. Remember, however, that as long as sputum is present you must continue to practise the precautions necessary to prevent spread of infection.

Q. Is it possible to have active TB of the lungs without positive sputum?

A. Yes, this is possible. It is also possible to have active disease without any sputum.

Q. What does the X-ray tell us?

A. The X-ray is invaluable because it shows up the shadows in the lungs of people who have old TB, now arrested; new trouble not yet suspected, or disease that requires to be watched at intervals.

Q. What would cause me to spit blood once in a while? I always feel good.

A. This is a fairly common symptom of pulmonary tuberculosis. It may be caused by rupture of one of the smaller blood vessels in the lung, or perhaps congestion within the lung.

Q. Are hemorrhages likely to be directly fatal?

A. Infrequently death is immediately caused by pulmonary hemorrhage. More generally if death occurs it is the result of subsequent advancing disease.

Hours of entertainment will be provided by a single spool no larger than your hand. And on spools of "blank" wire you will be able to make your own recordings—to keep permanently or to "wipe clean" for re-use any time you wish!

Yes, your Victory Bonds will buy greater pleasures and comforts tomorrow!

Men who think of tomorrow say

"HOLD ON TO YOUR VICTORY BONDS TODAY"

NO ONE can repeal the law of supply and demand. But we can make it work our way by holding on to Victory Bonds bought to finance our nation at war.

Here's why: For many months consumer goods will continue to be scarce. Bidding for these goods with our extra dollars, thus driving prices up, only serves to devalue all of our personal wealth, and that of the nation.

By leaving our extra money in safe keeping with our government—for repayment when conditions have become normal—we automatically keep prices down and maintain the law of supply and demand in balance.

That's why your Victory Bonds may save you twice what you've invested in them—if you hold on to them now. When tempted to cash them in—think of tomorrow!

Depends On Currents

What Bottles Can Do In Ocean Travel Is Remarkable

It is a pity there can be no record of the voyaging of a bottle thrown into the sea off South Australia 28 years ago and containing a letter which has just been delivered to its addressee at Aylesbury. What bottles can do in the way of ocean travel is remarkable, and not the least fascinating point is the great difference in various recorded instances of the rate of drift. In 1913 a bottle thrown into the sea at Studland Bay, Dorset, came ashore eleven months later at Christchurch, New Zealand, and another bottle put overboard off Cape Town in 1912 was found on the beach near Port Phillip, Australia, only seven months later, while a third bottle took four and a half years to drift from South Africa to the Shetlands, and a fourth took thirty-two years to travel from Stewart's Island, New Zealand, to the coast of Australia.

Much, of course, depends on the currents the bottles happen to encounter. Captain Simpson who launched some 10,000 bottles on experimental voyages, found that 10 per cent. of them came to shore, though some of them travelled over 10,000 miles, and he reckoned that the average rate of drift was less than half a mile per hour.—Manchester Guardian.

A New Year's resolution made to be kept could beneficially be one for healthful eating. Too often the person living alone is content with a scrap. But around the weekly meat ration can be balanced attractive and appetite-tensing meals, and you'll be surprised at what little time and effort are actually required in their preparation.

To begin the week when a guest may be on hand for Sunday dinner, minute steaks are suggested. Rice, potatoes and creamed celery would be good accompaniments. On Monday a token's worth of sausage, a jacket-boiled potato and cooked-to-perfection cabbage make a tasty meal. A broiled fish steak, baked potato and parsley-buttered carrots will give you a meatless oven meal for Tuesday. On Wednesday two shoulder lamb chops, along with unrationed kidney for added flavour and nutritional goodness, can form the basis of a luscious stew. Part of it can sit over a day in the ice box and make a tempting re-appearance on Thursday along with a tossed salad. Friday is an excellent day to get caught up with your daily products consumption, and eggs florentine is a fine dish for this purpose. It is simply prepared by nesting soft, cooked eggs in a bed of freshly cooked spinach and topping the whole with a cheese sauce. A quick trick for Saturday would be a beef-burger with tomato sauce and your favored vegetables. The week's ration spending leaves you with that comfortable feeling of having one token to the good.

Idea Of Englishman

Man Who Introduced Daylight Saving Died Before It Was Tried

The British Kent County Journal has an interesting article on Sir William Willett. Though born at Farnham in Surrey in 1856, Willett lived most of his life at Chislehurst in Kent, and it was whilst riding early one morning on Chislehurst common, and being how many bedrooms were down and people wasting beautiful hours of fresh sunshine, he conceived the idea of daylight saving. Willett, who was a builder by trade, was not an M.P., but he got his friend Robert Pearce to introduce the Daylight Saving Bill in Parliament in 1908. It took the First Great War, however, to persuade the politicians to pass it in 1916, by which time Willett had published nineteen editions of his "Waste of Daylight" pamphlet and had been dead just a year. He did not live to see his inspiration achieved, and certainly never envisaged such a possibility as Double Summer Time, the achievement of yet another Great War. He is buried in the churchyard of St. Nicholas at Chislehurst, and the National Trust has purchased some 88 acres of countryside near his home as a memorial to a true public benefactor. In this park stands a granite obelisk, commemorating him, with the inscription "Horas Non Numero Nil Aetivum." On the estate is a Willett Way and a Daylight Inn with a unique sign showing the sun between two clock faces.

War Brides

Most Of Them Evidently Like Their New Country

One of the stories that is going the rounds in Canada in this age of rumors is that British war brides don't like Canada and want to go home. About 9,000 British girls came to Canada in the last three years after marrying our soldiers. Only 49 have applied for a return passage to Britain.

Most of the war brides evidently still love their husbands and like their new country. In fact, everybody is happy about the whole thing, and no wonder. Could there be any better husbands than Canadian soldiers? With all our troubles is there any country right now which offers a better chance for the happiness of a young family?—Vancouver Sun.

Cost Of War

Conflict Just Ended Cost Four Times That Of Previous War

Without taking into account property damage, loss of production, the cost of war relief and neutral losses, here is what the war cost the treasuries of the world according to a report made public by the Bank of International Settlements recently—$680,000,000,000. Thus the conflict which has just ended cost more than four times that of the 1914-1918 struggle. War among nations is becoming increasingly expensive—with the prospect that another war may be the sort most expensive of all, and the last.—Winnipeg Tribune.

The world's oldest book is said to be a tome in China. It consists of 78 wooden leaves, fixed together with string, and dates back to 100 B.C.

Antique Furniture

Post-War Britain Is Going Mad Over Art Treasures

Post-war Britain is "going mad over" antique furniture, paintings and ornaments, and a similar boom is predicted for the United States within two or three years.

At London's two largest art auction houses, Sotheby's and Christie's, spokesmen said that while there had been no fantastic prices for any one item, even "the most ordinary" art treasures bring two to five times their pre-war price.

"We've found that the market here is about two years ahead of the United States," Charles Des Graz, a partner at Sotheby's said, "and good healthy American buyers is still taking place which means they anticipate a boom."

"I notice that the extraordinarily high prices are fetched by ordinary things rather than by extraordinary things," Des Graz added. "It's not that things bring $8,000, but that things which used to fetch $200 now bring $400."

At Christie's Sir Alec Martin, managing director, said that the general level of things of quality, "provided they are on the smallest side," was much higher than before the war but that there had been no real test of an outstanding article, such as a really great Gainsborough of a Rembrandt, since there have been none on the market.

He said people do not want "collectors' items" so much as things of some serviceable value which they can't buy new, such as English and foreign china, Georgian silver (rather than formerly popular Elizabethan), small furniture, pictures, carpets and curtains.

Chippendale tables, "just big enough for a glass and an ashtray" now bring $400 to $800 where a few years ago they brought $60 to $80; a writing table that formerly cost $1,000 now costs $3,500; a diamond bracelet worth $300 before now is bracketed worth $900; Audubon's book of birds, one of the copies of which brought the world's record price of $9,000 in 1937, now averages $14,800 for a "quite bad copy."

A Dresden china service is worth $2,000 or twice its pre-war price; a small Florentine engraving will bring $8,400; china and porcelain ornaments sell from $120 to $1,200, and a plain silver tea tray brings $6,400.

Lost Treasure

Two Men Who Knew The Hiding Place Are Now Dead

Treasures from Oxford Museum of History and Science—including a clock face belonging to Cardinal Wolsey—are missing.

They are in a safe place. But the two men who knew the secret are dead.

The men were Dr. R. T. Gunther, curator, and Mr. Albert Joyce, the janitor.

When the war began they hid treasures (brass navigating instruments used by sailors a thousand years ago), Cardinal Wolsey's clock face, and some ancient watches. Where they hid them one can only know.

Dr. Gunther and Mr. Joyce died in 1940 and their secret went with them.—London Daily Mail.

PENICILLIN INEFFECTIVE WHERE LOCKJAW CONCERNED

Tetanus, more commonly known as lockjaw, does not respond to penicillin treatment, according to Dr. W. A. Altmeier of the University of Cincinnati College of Medicine and the Cincinnati General Hospital. His findings, based on a clinical study of 10 cases of established generalized tetanus, were published in a recent issue of the Journal of the American Medical Association.

"Penicillin has not been beneficial in the treatment of tetanus because it has no effect on the Clostridium tetani toxin," wrote Dr. Altmeier. He went on to explain that tetanus is an acute infectious disease of the central nervous system caused by germs called Clostridium tetani.

He said that lockjaw occurs so frequently in small and insignificant wounds because these do not receive a physician's attention, whereas patients with large wounds are immediately injected with tetanus antitoxin which prevents the poison from spreading.

In this connection it is interesting to recall that Dr. Nelles Silverthorn of Toronto, chairman of the National Immunization Committee of the Health League of Canada, advocates use of tetanus toxoid as an immunization agent against lockjaw. In a widely publicized article in the magazine "Health" some months ago, he emphasized there is now available, either singly or combined with other immunizing agents, an effective tetanus toxoid—an agent similar in effect to diphtheria toxoid.

New Cars

Predicts They May Be Built With Plastic Bodies Within Two Years

William B. Stout is a well-known aviation engineer and automobile designer. He has some pertinent ideas as to trends in automobile design and manufacture.

Mr. Stout predicts that within two years all major manufacturers will be producing cars with plastic bodies much stronger than steel. These cars will have half the weight and twice the economy of present day vehicles.

Cars such as Mr. Stout describes will give motorists a lot of things they've been wanting for years. Probably the most important of all is the gift of greatly increased vision to the driver. Operators of present-day cars have to guess at changes to their right. In rear-engine cars they won't have to guess, they can see. Many an accident thus will be prevented.—Buffalo Courier-Express.

BLUE IS FOR BIG BOYS, TOO

By MARION BAILEY

Copyright
The Chicago Sun Syndicate

LUELLA GRAYSON turned from the gold ornate mirror, the little blue nest of straw still perched on top of her head. Luella was borrowing the hat from Caplan's Hat Shop where she worked, to please the eye of a big two-headed Irishman she had met a few weeks before, and with whom, later that Saturday she was stopping out into the country. It was nice to think of Dan and herself in the country. Dan O'Hara liked blue on Luella, and Sam Caplan liked his girls to advertise his merchandise, so Luella was killing two birds with one hat.

Luella knew very little about Dan O'Hara. Dan didn't talk about himself. He had told her, though, that he was salesman for Reddy Office Supplies, that blue was his favorite color. She had discovered for herself how really charming the Irish could be. But Fanny Vineberg had been of a different opinion.

Everybody knows an Irishman is a chatterer, and you'd have to be blind not to see he had an eye for the girls.

Fanny had been gently but firmly told to mind her own business.

Replacing that hat on its stand, Luella walked towards the front of the store. She exchanged a Japanese turban in the window for a straw-colored halo here, which she thought had more appeal, then stood for a moment gazing out. It was a lovely Spring day.

The door of the shop opened and a quiet-eyed woman entered. Luella moved to greet her. "May I help you, madam?" she said pleasantly.

The woman unfurled her shabby gray coat exposing a soft blue dress; she looked oddly out of place in the smartly appointed shop.

"I would like a hat to go with this dress," the woman said, "I thought—well, something young looking with a touch of blue. You see my husband likes blue, but I've been so busy bringing up a family I had almost forgotten."

She smiled sweetly.

It could be true—but don't depend on it! Restless, dream-filled nights more often mean upset nerves and digestion. And nervousness and indigestion may be the result of caffeine in tea and coffee.

Are you one of those people who can't stand the caffeine in tea and coffee? Try Postum! It's delicious—not like tea, not like coffee, just wonderfully distinctive in a way all its own. And Postum contains no caffeine or any other drug to affect heart or nerves or digestion. Make it right in the cup, just by adding boiling water or hot milk. Costs less than one cent a serving.

anyone; husbands are like that; wait till you get married."

Luella smiled faintly, she felt a sudden warm glow remembering Dan wasn't like that, but then she wasn't married to him, and some women just leave themselves go, so how could they expect . . .

"Believe me, he'll notice you in this hat; you'll never find any more becoming."

"But it looks so expensive, I'm sure I couldn't afford it."

"It's only six ninety-five," Luella offered.

"That's still a little more than I intended to pay, but perhaps I could manage it, it's been so long since I had anything really nice." While the woman searched in her purse, Luella looked at her watch; two more hours to go. She'd be glad when the store closed.

"I think I will take it," the customer said, "and I'll wear it."

"I would," advised Luella, "it's just the right kind of a day for a new hat."

"Could you send my old one?"

"Certainly, and the address?"

"Now let me see. Yes, I think I'll have you send it to my husband's office; I'll pick it up there later."

The telephone rang, Fanny Vineberg called, "Would you answer, Luella?"

Luella didn't want to answer the phone. A sudden weakness had taken possession of her knees. Her mouth was stretched into a forced smile as she stared into the eyes of Mrs. Daniel O'Hara.

Whether there was a glint of shrewdness in those grateful eyes, she would never know.

She gave Luella an apologetic smile. "I'm sorry to give you so much trouble, but you see I don't buy very many hats. I can't afford to, so I would like to be quite sure."

"You're not giving me any trouble," Luella assured her. "I wish all my customers were as easy to please as you. It's nice on you," she added.

"It has a certain appeal, and just enough . . ." Luella couldn't go on, she just couldn't do it. The hat wasn't for a quiet subdued little creature; it was meant for someone tall, and glamorous—someone very sure of herself. Just a little moment, I think I have something you'll like better, the headsize may be a little too big, but I'll have our fitter take it in."

Luella came back with the small twist of blue straw she had intended to wear herself later on in the evening. The price tag said ten twenty-five but that didn't bother Luella; she changed that price on the tag to six ninety-five. She thought, "I'll make it up on the next two sales, and there are lots of other hats for me to choose from; I'm easy to suit."

It really was amazing what a hat could do; the effect was just about what Luella had expected; it lifted the woman right out of the dowdy class, into the sure and smart one. The woman turned to Luella, eyes shining. "If my husband could see me just once in this hat . . . he doesn't seem to notice how I look

THE B.N.A. ACT

Original Is Left In Strong Room In Parliament Buildings In London

A House of Lords receipt for 7s 6d ($1.80) made out to the Canadian Press, bears testimony that the original British North America Act (30 Vict. No. 5) has been inspected.

This reporter can add that Canada's foundation act came through the war as fresh as paint, its printing clear and the vellum pages unmarked. The red ribbon binding it has faded slightly but the knot is as strong and precise as the language in the long pages.

Stout black print sets forth, among other things, that a king shall be within the jurisdiction of the federal parliament, and even stouter print on the cover declares the act is for the union of Canada, Nova Scotia and New Brunswick and the government thereof; and for purposes connected therewith. Date of approval written in ink by a strong hand, is March 29, 1867.

For 7s 6d, the standard fee, the act was taken from a strong room in the Victoria tower of the parliament buildings, where it rests among thousands of others dating back to 1485.

Officials explained the B.N.A. Act is part of an unbroken series in their care. They had not heard of suggestions that the original should be moved to Canada.

The bill is signed by J. G. Shaw Lefevre, clerk of the parliament in 1867, as a sign of royal assent. There is also an ink notation in ancient French "la Reine le veult" (The Queen wishes it), the traditional declaration that a measure has come before the throne and been approved.

The B.N.A. Act is of what its custodians call the "flat" type, and therefore far easier to handle and read than the long, rolled sheaves of vellum covered with great inked letters which are the originals of acts passed prior to 1850.

But for acts of any age the safeguards are the same; even for 7s 6d they can only be inspected and must not leave the custody of the clerk of the parliament. If the act were required in a court or a parliament a sworn copy would suffice and the original would remain secure in the tower.

Made A Fortune

Immigrant Girl Who Took To Writing Books

Jo Sinclair is 32 years old, the daughter of immigrants, and born in London after their arrival in Brooklyn. She grew up in a period when America was beginning to think that its great days were past, that all frontiers were closed, that a dull and regimented life had replaced for ever the wide opportunities of its fathers. But Jo did not think so. She went to work in an attic to write a book about immigrant life as she had seen it. She had $10 a week income and this she shared equally with her parents.

The income came, incidentally, from an anonymous rich man who was devoting his wealth to the encouragement of various unknown artists and gambling on an eventual discovery of great talent. In the work of Jo he hit the jackpot. For the other day her first book won a $10,000 prize offered by Harper and Brothers against the competition of 700 other books.

Her manuscript was entered at the last minute, was hurriedly read and revealed itself as a masterpiece. The girl in the Brooklyn garret has made her fortune and her reputation overnight.—Winnipeg Free Press.

Coleman's powerful Grands are being put to the test tonight against opposition other than that of Pass teams. They left this afternoon to play Lethbridge Legionnaires in the first round of the provincial intermediate playoffs in a home-and-home total-goals-to-count series.

According to manager Ray Spillers, present plans call for Lethbridge playing in Coleman on Wednesday night. Fans, however, are cautioned to watch for posters just in case some change occurs in the present plan.

Grands are playing good hockey at the present time and their followers do not anticipate a great deal of difficulty from the Lethbridge sextet.

In Memoriam

DENHOLM: In Loving Remembrance of our dear husband and father, John Denholm, who died February 24, 1939, aged 68 years.
